DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Applicant is reminded that in order for a patent issuing on the instant application to obtain the benefit of priority based on priority papers filed in parent Application No. 09589792 under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d) or (f), a claim for such foreign priority must be timely made in this application. To satisfy the requirement of 37 CFR 1.55(a)(2) for a certified copy of the foreign application, applicant may simply identify the application containing the certified copy.

Drawings

The subject matter of this application admits of illustration by a drawing to facilitate understanding of the invention. Applicant is required to furnish a drawing under 37 CFR 1.81(c). No new matter may be introduced in the required drawing. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d).

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Furthermore, the cross-References to Related Applications: See 37 CFR 1.78 and MPEP § 201.11 needs to be updated with the status of the parent file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The submitted IDSes have been reviewed. The documents cited on page 2 have not been reviewed because there is no patent(s) associated with the numbers listed. The documents listed on page one have been made of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

With respect to the introduced limitation of claim 9 the claimed terminology as recited in the ultimate paragraph:

"formatting the medium at a recording power which is lower than the recording power determined as a result of the power calibration" finds no support in the specification as originally filed.

Dependent claim 10 does not clarify the above problem and falls therewith.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

the claimed invention lacks patentable utility.

As understood from the disclosure, in formatting dis(c/k)s by different drives, an optimized laser power is established for each one. Nevertheless, if the established laser power is less than a universal lower limit, as required by the claim, nothing could be written to the dis(c/k). The examiner fails to understand why anyone would attempt to format a dis(c/k) at a power level less than that required to write to the dis(c/k). Such would lead to a dis(c/k) that had nothing overwritten, i.e., in effect nothing accomplished. If a user wanted a previously formatted dis(c/k) not to be formatted, there would be no need to perform any calibration procedure since there wouldn't be anything formatted. The examiner hence concludes that the claimed invention lacks any utility. Failing that, the claimed desired result(s) that of formatting a dis(c/k) would not be accomplished and hence doesn't achieve its' desired result.

Art Unit: 2653

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Finkelstein et al and Johann et al are cited as illustrative of prior art calibration procedures in this environment.
